INFORMATION FOR APPLICANTS FOR A PRACTISING CERTIFICATE

The principal purpose of the HPCA Act 2003 is to protect the health and safety of members of the public by providing for mechanisms to ensure that health practitioners are competent and fit to practise their professions. You are applying for a practising certificate under the HPCA Act 2003 - Section 26(1) for Annual Practising Certificates or Section 31(1) for Interim Practising Certificates. You will be treated as a holder of a Practising Certificate from the date when the Board receives the application, including payment, until the date it is issued or you are notified that it will not be issued.

Section 7(2) of the Act states that no person may claim to be practising a profession as a health practitioner of a particular kind or state or do anything that is calculated to suggest that the person practises or is willing to practise a profession as a health practitioner unless the person is a health practitioner of that kind; and holds a current practising certificate as a health practitioner of that kind.

As a Registered Psychologist in New Zealand, you are required by law to ensure that the Board Registrar has your current postal address, current residential address and current work address. You must also promptly give the Registrar written notice of any change in your postal address, residential address and work address.

3. the applicant has not satisfactorily completed the requirements of any competence programme that he or she has been ordered by the Board to complete; or

5. the applicant is unable to perform the functions required for the applicant's profession because of some mental or physical condition; or
